

Last Name, First Name

Svetlana Aleksandrovna Stelmakh

Position (Department):

Professor, Department of Psychology and Special Education

Education:

Abai Kazakh State Pedagogical University, major: Oligophrenopedagogy, minor: Speech Therapy (Almaty, Republic of Kazakhstan)

Academic Degree: Candidate of Psychological Sciences

Academic Title: Associate Professor, Higher Attestation Commission

Teaching Experience: 34 years

Disciplines Taught:

"Pathopsychology," "Psychocorrective Technologies for Early Childhood Autism," "Special Preschool Oligophrenopedagogy," "ABA Therapy with Children with Autism Spectrum Disorders," "Theory and Practice of Autism Psychotherapy," "Fundamentals of Speech Therapy," "Psychocorrection of Speech Disorders," "Sensory Integration."

Research Interests:

2017-18: Member of the working group for the World Bank project to develop professional standards. Professional standard developer – Psychologist-specialist in healthcare systems.

May 2018: Participation in the international study "Potentials of ABA Therapy (Applied Behavior Analysis)."

April-December 2017: Head of the temporary work team (at VKSU) for the implementation of the UNICEF project "Study of the mental health of adolescents in conflict with the law."

2016-17: Member of the working group for the implementation of the project to introduce inclusive education.

2021: Head of the temporary creative team for the development of the Methodology and Screening Tool for diagnosing the psychological health of middle and high school children (SD-WB).

2021-2024 University Team Leader within the framework of the Strengthening Initial Teacher Education KZEMP/QCBS-03 project, coordinated by Häme University of Applied Sciences, Finland

Author of teaching aids: Sound Pronunciation, Inclusive Education (Case Study), Time Management, Stress Management.